

Swinging '60s

It's official: a subtle hint of 1960s irony is the interiors look of the moment – just make sure the overall effect is contemporary; no one needs to bring mustard back into the equation... Thomas Lundgren, founder and CEO of THE One, explains how to achieve the look using a few key pieces.

Mae West canvas, Dhs699

Allow statement items to shine by keeping sofas simple

Bottle rack, Dhs599

'Modern, bright and airy with a delicate feminine touch, this is a playful style that combines soft whites and greys with oh-so-'60s vivid orange and apple greens. Think organic materials, rescued woods, glass, plexiglass, plastic and matte fabrics paired with generously plump sofas and simple, streamlined furniture for a harmonious blend.'

Clear orange plexiglass lamp, Dhs395

You can't get much more '60s than wood and glass tables

Coffee table, Dhs1,595

Thomas says...

'Mixing retro styles with newer fashions is a very hip and happening trend. It's all about hinting at the past while remaining firmly rooted in the present.'

All items available from THE One.